French and German Homework

In languages the "little and often" policy is the most effective type of homework and we are therefore we will use the following activities to support vocabulary and language learning:

- quizzizz.com You will be given a code in class- go to the website and "join game", enter your code. It is vital you complete these on time as they have set closing times.
- memrise.com Your teacher will tell you which course you should be using- you should have recorded your log in details in your planner- you can reset your password yourself, if you need to.
- www.pearsonactivelearn.com This will be listening, reading and/or grammar practice. Your log in details should be written in your planner.
- Project work: Sometimes you will be given a project to complete- details of this will be given to you to put in your planner.

You should aim to do at least 20 minutes per week per language on memrise.com as this will help with your vocabulary.

You could also sign up to duolingo.com, which is free and will help you to improve your vocabulary.
